This supplement implements and extends the guidance of Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-2803, The Air Force Awards And Decorations Program, 15 June 2001. The OPR for this supplement is HQ AFRC/A1BB (CMSgt Flateau). The AFI is published word-for-word without editorial review. Air Force Reserve supplementary material is indicated by "Air Force Reserve Command" in boldface type. This supplement describes Air Force Reserve procedures to be used in conjunction with the basic instruction. Upon receipt of this integrated supplement discard the Air Force basic. Ensure that all records created as a result of processes prescribed in this publication are maintained in accordance with AFMAN 37-123 (will convert to AFMAN 33-363), Management of Records, and disposed of in accordance with the Air Force Records Disposition Schedule (RDS) located at <https://afrims.amc.af.mil/>.

SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This revision updates organizational office symbol from DPMB to A1BB. A bar () indicates changes since the last edition.

1.8. (Added) Unit Commanders' Responsibilities. Commanders of units and detachments appoint a unit awards and decorations monitor for their organization and provide a copy of the appointment memorandum to the Awards and Decorations Monitor at the Military Personnel Flight. The monitor will be a TSgt/GS-4 or above who can be contacted during normal duty hours. The monitor ensures submissions are administratively correct before forwarding to higher reviewing authority.

2.1. Eligibility. Members of Reserve components, while participating in authorized periods of training, may be considered for military decorations provided the act, achievement, or service was in furtherance of Air Force mission or functions and meets the established criteria. However, acts, achievements, or services the Reserve member performs as a private citizen that are of principle benefit to private citizens are not the basis for military decorations.

2.3.3. Base extended tour submissions on date arrived on station or date of the last decoration awarded on station.

3.2.4.1. Do not use AF Form 2274, Air Force Achievement Medal, to justify award of the Air Force Achievement Medal within AFRC. Use the AF Form 642, Air Force Achievement Medal or Air Force Commendation Medal Justification, or bond paper when the description does not lend itself to the AF Form 642. Justification must be signed. Use appropriate signature block.

3.2.4.4.1. (Added) Prepare justification for the Meritorious Service Medal on AFRC Form 31, Meritorious Service Medal Nomination, or on bond paper when the description does not lend itself to the AFRC Form 31. Justification must be signed. Use the appropriate signature block.

3.2.4.4.2. (Added) Prepare a descriptive justification for award of the DSM to Air Reserve personnel for all grades and decoration conditions. Justification for the Legion of Merit or lesser decorations based on retirement may be submitted using the endorsement memorandum (abbreviated format).

3.3. Processing a Recommendation. All processing levels forward recommendations to the next higher echelon for processing or return recommendations for correction within 5 workdays of receipt. Intermediate commanders or vice commanders use AFRC Form 30, AFRC Indorsement for Decoration, or AFRC Form 31, Meritorious Service Medal Nomination, to forward recommendations to the next level of command. Comments are not required on the form and will not enhance the likelihood of approval

3.3.1. Forward recommendations for decoration for which HQ AFRC is the final approval authority to arrive at HQ AFRC/A1BB at least 60 days prior to the desired presentation date. Submit an original and three copies of the recommendation and an original and seven copies of the citation.

3.3.2. Forward recommendations for decoration which require HQ USAF approval to arrive at HQ AFRC/A1BB at least 60 days prior to the desired presentation date.

3.3.6. Return incorrect recommendations to the last indorsing headquarters for correction. After correction, send recommendation to the next higher echelon of command.

3.6. Presenting Decorations. Present awards within 90 days after the recipient arrives on station or the decoration elements are received, whichever happens later.

4.3.1. Forward Air Force Outstanding Unit Award recommendations to arrive at HQ AFRC/A1BB per directive.

4.4.1. Forward Air Force Organizational Excellence Award recommendation to arrive at HQ AFRC/A1BB per directive.

4.6.6.4. (AFRC) See Attachment 9 (Added) for sample nomination and citation.

9.4. Forms Prescribed. AFRC Form 30, AFRC Indorsement for Decoration, or AFRC Form 31, Meritorious Service Medal Nomination.

9.5. (Added) Forms Adopted. AF Form 2274, Air Force Achievement Medal, AF Form 642, Air Force Achievement Medal or Air Force Commendation Medal (AFAM/AFCM) Justification.

Attachment 9 (Added)AERIAL ACHIEVEMENT MEDAL CRITERIA

A9.1. AFRC aircrew members are eligible for award of the Aerial Achievement Medal (AAM) for sustained operational activities specified below:

A9.1.1. Weather Reconnaissance Aircrews: Successful completion of 15 actual scheduled penetrations of tropical cyclones with surface winds in excess of 64 knots.

A9.1.2. Modular Airborne Firefighting Aircrews: Completion of 15 employment missions using the modular airborne firefighting system in response to US Forest Service or other appropriate authority.

A9.1.3. Aerial Spray: Participation as a primary crew member on 15 employment sorties at or below 150 feet above ground level on which actual aerial spray is conducted. Sorties must be in response to requests for military support to civil authority for emergency/natural disaster relief operations according to AFI 32-4001, Disaster Preparedness Plans and Operations.

A9.1.4. KC-10 and KC-135 crew members who complete 25 missions flown from any of the following categories:

A9.1.4.1. Operational refueling reconnaissance, radar surveillance, or command and control aircraft when those aircraft are involved in the conduct of intelligence gathering, surveillance, guidance of air intercepts, or command over ground forces, when any two options in paragraph A9.1.4.5. apply.

A9.1.4.2. Operational refueling of fighter and attack aircraft involved in combat air patrol (CAP), air intercepts, interdiction or close air support missions. (Example: support to CAP for protection of shipping in the Persian Gulf, CAP support for search and rescue missions, such as the KAL-007 shoot A9.1.4.3. US Navy reconnaissance refueling missions where emergency alternates include nonaligned or unfriendly nations for which diplomatic clearance has not been approved. This would include BURNING WIND, GIANT SCALE, GIANT REACH, and operations north of 15 degrees north latitude. Two of the options in paragraph A9.1.4.5. must apply.

A9.1.4.4. Special operations air refueling support conducted at altitudes within range of hand held anti-aircraft weapons over regions of known terrorist activities. Mission nicknames and areas of operation would be determined by HQ AMC/DON. Two of the options in paragraph A9.1.4.5. must apply.

A9.1.4.5. Options:

A9.1.4.5.1. The mission requires crews to operate outside the reach of conventional US rescue facilities.

A9.1.4.5.2. The mission subjects the crew to some degree of risk due to potential interference by foreign governments.

A9.1.4.5.3. Crew is required to perform beyond the limits expected of normal aircrew discipline by additional stress factors, such as extended crew duty day, complete communications-out rendezvous, and refueling in instrument meteorological conditions (IMC), etc.

A9.1.4.5.4. Strip alert launch in a forward area to respond to an operational/emergency tasking.

A9.1.5. Successful completion of 15 missions to one-way radar sites in the Alaskan Theater.

A9.1.6. Successful completion of one 2-day midwinter Antarctic airdrop mission.

A9.1.7. Successful completion of one OPERATION DEEP FREEZE summer mission. Members may receive only one award for each mission per year. Awards are retroactive to 1 October 1991.

A9.1.8. Successful completion of ten missions in support of humanitarian relief operations. Missions may be combined from different operations to achieve a total of ten. Eligibility criteria are retroactive to include OPERATION PROVIDE HOPE.

A9.1.9. Successful completion of AAM criteria of a serviced command.

A9.2. Procedures for documenting eligibility will include higher headquarters tasking order and recommendation from the unit commander.

A9.3. Normal training missions for all types of aircraft are excluded, for example, air-to-ground, air-to-air, C-130 airdrop, air rescue, etc.

A9.4. Reassignment procedures for Air Force Reserve personnel normally will not apply due to the stabilized assignments. However, aircrew members who have served a minimum of 4 years in mission-ready status, completed at least 70 percent of the required qualifying missions outlined in paragraph A9.1.1., paragraph A9.1.2., paragraph A9.1.3., paragraph A9.1.4., or paragraph A9.1.5., and are being reassigned to other duties may be awarded the basic Aerial Achievement Medal. If an award is based on these criteria, a statement to this effect must be included in the justification.

A9.5. Submission procedures are as follows: On recommendations submitted for individuals who meet the above criteria, type the following statement on plain bond paper: "(Grade, Name) has completed (number of operational missions as appropriate) according to AFI 36-2803, table 2.1, and AFRC Supplement, and is eligible for award of the Aerial Achievement Medal." The Operations Group Commander signs underneath this statement verifying the number of missions flown and compliance with AFI 36-2803. When this statement is used, no other justification is needed.

A9.6. Approval authorities consider only those recommendations which clearly substantiate exceptional performance and outstanding airmanship above that normally expected of professional airmen. Completion of the required number of missions does not in itself justify the award. As with all other military decorations, the individual must be officially recommended for the decoration.
